THEIR ESCORT.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 16.—Eighty wives from Abdul Hamid's harem, richly dressed and veiled, were driven in carriages today, under the escort of four eunuchs and a train of cavalry, from Yildiz to the ancient Seraglio Palace.

Curious bystanders were driven away from the exit of the Yildiz kiosk by a guard of soldiers. Following the carriages was a train of guns with baggage.

The Yildiz is being made ready for admitting of the public. Most of former Sultan's slaves have been freed.

The arrest of Prince Burhan Edhem, fourth son of the deposed Sultan, is confirmed. He will be imprisoned in one of the palaces. Nothing is known of the precise charge against him, but he was suspected of being implicated in the conspiracy of April 12.

Fahmid Scheffet Pasha, commander of the Turkish constitutional forces, both land and sea, is the man most frequently in the thoughts of those observing or dealing with the confused politics of the day in Turkey. He is the one quiet figure upon whom rests the preservation of order in the civil branches of the government. He is to be known to his subjects as the "man of law" and empty with persons and factions dangerous to the state.

PRAISE HIS SKILL.

The skill and celerity with which Scheffet brought the Third Army Corps and part of the Second Army before Constantinople I occupied the capital has amazed the world. Millions of men have been marched to the embassies on officers' came from Germany, Italy, Britain, officers from Egypt observe the development of the campaign. They have not ceased to comment upon the constitution-commanding armament.

The army is merely an instrument of civil power," said Gen. Scheffet. "I am an officer in it to serve our authority to establish order in the country. I am a soldier and a man of parliament, only and always under the will of the Cabinet." The general had an hour's talk with the Pasha, the Grand Vizier, at the conclusion of which he said:

The Grand Vizier and I are in agreement. We have obtained to come in our progress toward free stable institutions. I have hope will rise above them."

Ferid Pasha replied to my expression of thanks for suggesting the steps to restore the confidence of the Armenians and give them protection in the country when needed."

DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

ASHVILLE, (N.C.) May 16.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) John Berry the veteran aviator, who started from St. Louis yesterday afternoon in the balloon for an all-night trip, to qualify for the Indianapolis race, landed at Covington, Washington county, at 10 o'clock last night after what was a most delightful trip. His flight from St. Louis was favored with an excellent wind, favorable conditions, and clear weather. Otherwise his balloon stayed at a high altitude, just one mile north of Okawville he had near the ground over the farm of W. A. Kugler. Mrs. Kugler invited him to land, and he joyfully replied by letting her to take a spin with him. landed in the farm of Louis Goings in the morning. Mr. Goings loaded the airship on one of his wagons and drove it to the town of Okawville, returning to the refusal of the railroad to take the baggage on an early train. Berry was compelled to remain until this evening before departing for home in St. Louis. John Berry said he had come around him to make a landing. Berry tried an experiment in the form of a mechanism to attract the attention of people below. He stated he had no difficulty to attract people along the route, due to the peculiar sound of his device.

The $50 diamond was first missed as the owner was returning from Thursday afternoon's meeting at the homes of Thompson home. It was supposed that the stone had been offered for a reward of $100 by Mrs. Matlock for its recovery.

NEW COLONIST RECORD SHOWN BY RAILROADS.

Total Figures for Season's Traffic to Pacific Coast Confirms Reports of Greatest Influx in History of California and the Northwest.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CHICAGO, May 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The full returns which have been thoroughly canvassed show that the spring colonist movement into the Pacific Northwest and California is the greatest in the history of the railroads. During the months of March and April, which is the period of low colonization, the records show that approximately 63,000 people sought new homes on the broad acres of the Northwest, including Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Colorado and Wyoming, and that fully 8000 people found permanent lodgment in California, making a total of about 71,000.

The colonist movement is the one bright spot in the railroad record for the year thus far, and the officials of the railroads are agreed that the people in general have plenty of money and that they are not frightened by the bugaboo of business depression. Owing to the fact that the movement on the lands which will soon follow to the plow, and which will long be contributing their full quota to the increasing railroad tonnage from the West.

As for the reasons to which to attribute the increased movement, railroad officials differ. A careful study of the situation convinces P. S. Eustis, general manager of the Hill lines, that the Hill lines have given a lead in the colonization movement into the Northwest, the officials of the Hill lines have agreed to give their figures in detail.

Although the detailed figures are not over the Hill lines, officials are in agreement that the movement over the Great Northern for the months of March and April through the St. Paul gateway, was approximately 12,000, and the movement over the Northern Pacific, approximately 12,700 for the previous year.

As nearly as can be learned the Hill lines carried approximately 12,000 people on the one-way tickets into the Northwest, as against 12,700 two spring months of the last year, and the entire movement over the Harriman lines, including California, Nevada, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana and Utah, was approximately 35,000 as against 22,407 for the previous year.

Father Payson Young Leaves Oakland House.

Enemies Say He Dared Not Face Revelations.

History of His Past Known to Committee.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Father Payson Young, the unbroken Episcopalian priest of Oakland, who was deposed as rector because of the notoriety caused by the recent disappearance of Edna Clark, a young girl of his congregation, has gone away.

His enemies say he dared not face the discoveries made by the church committee that he illegally divorced his wife and abandoned the name of Rev. Patrick J. Lyons, which he bore in Boston, and deceived his relatives with the report of his drowning in order to stop prosecution for the embezzlement of $15,000.

Lyons disappeared from Boston in 1886 and in 1888 he worked up the fake of his drowning in Canada. Then he came to California, where he secured a divorce, without a proper notice, from his wife.

Under the name of Payson Young he obtained the rectorship of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin in Oakland, and would probably be there still if he had not induced Edna Clark to leave him. This came the exposure of his conduct of the girl and of his divorce from his Boston wife, who was identified as Patrick Lyons by his relatives, who came out here. What he did with the $15,000 is a mystery.

NAME McCARTHY AGAIN.
Leader of Laborites' Action in San Francisco Gets the Nomination for Mayor.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Union Laborites' leaders late last night, after a five-hour conference, selected candidates for the three chief offices at the coming municipal election. These were P. McCarthy, president of the Building Trades Council, for Mayor; Thomas F. Finn, for Sheriff and H. L. Mulvey for County Clerk. There was strong opposition to McCarthy by some of the members, because of his record, but he was managed to rally enough votes to win out.

Among other candidates for Mayor was James F. Sullivan, brother-in-law of Millionaire James D. Phelan. Sullivan is a good man, but he is not strong, but he has tired of the party because it is controlled by Phelan, and he wanted the union labor information to be run as an independent. Therefore McCarthy has been active in binding union-labor leaders in San Francisco, and despite the fact that he has made many enemies, he will poll an almost solid labor vote. He will be a strong favorite labor party here, as it was carried on by Biddle Mayor Schmitz.

Watsonville Prepared for Annual Convention of Knights of Pythias and Sisters Today.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
WATSONVILLE, May 16.—The grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias and Rathbone Sisters will meet here tomorrow in annual session. It is expected 2000 persons will be in attendance.

The lodges have 80 delegates. The town is well decorated, and great efforts have been made in the way of providing entertainment. Five hundred boxes of apples have been kept in storage since last fall to be distributed.

There will be a barbecue Thursday, the Eagle Grand Auditorium, and at 8 P.M. the Knights and the delegates will come here in a body. Two whole hams and numerous sheep have been barbecued.

The tents of the uniform rank are erected on the ball grounds. The arrangement under Brig.-Gen. Drift is here.

The program for tomorrow includes a reception, an address by the Mayor on behalf of the city, an address by the Knights, and a speech on behalf of Central California, and responses by Grand Chancellor Wagener, Chief M. A. Clark, and Brig.-Gen. Drift.

HURT ON FUN RIDE.

Seven Injured When Car on Scenic Railway Leaves Track.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

PORTLAND (Or.) May 16.—Seven persons were injured in an accident today on a scenic railway at Council Crest, a suburban resort of this city.

All of the injured are residents of this city. Mrs. S. E. Nelson was seriously hurt.

The scenic railway runs up and down inclines and in and out of tunnels. The car to which the accident occurred plunged down a sharp incline at terrific speed into one of the tunnels, at the bottom of which there was a sharp curve.

As the car struck the curve it's forward wheels mounted the guard rail and overturned, pinning the occupants beneath it.

followed the trail from Eugene through Cottage Grove to Drain, a distance of forty miles.

The highwaymen, who passed are terrorized, knowing him to be a desperado and desperate. He called at the farmhouse of C. M. Henderson yesterday and demanded food, which was quickly given him. Again later in the day he stopped at the house of Jonas Davis and inquired how he might pass Drain without going through the town. He talked more than was necessary at either place, and seemed nervous.

STOP BIRD KILLING.
AUDUBON SOCIETY ACTS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PORTLAND (Or.) May 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following the slaughter of birds of plumage in Oregon, arrangements have been completed by the Oregon Audubon Society to protect the wild fowl in that part of the State. Wardens have just been secured to patrol Klamath and Malheur lakes and to arrest any plume hunters.

One warden has been secured for Klamath Lake and two for Malheur, and all will be provided with gasoline launches, the State bearing a share of the expense. Herons and other birds have been killed for millinery purposes on these lakes, and the society has been urged to put a stop to the hunting. The profit of the plume hunters are said to run as high as several hundred dollars a day, and they are therefore always ready to take big chances in their work.

INTERNATIONAL WEDDING.

Another Japanese of Seattle Takes an American Bride—Eight Such Couples in Bellevue.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SEATTLE (Wash.) May 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Deputy Auditor Claude Gage yesterday issued a marriage license to M. S. Nakata, a Japanese, and Anna Jeffrey, aged 21, of Denver, Colo. Nakata came to this country six years ago.

The two have been residents of Denver. Kuky is well educated and has held positions of trust in several large institutions, notably a bank in Colorado. The couple arrived in Seattle yesterday and immediately repaired to the County Auditor's office, where they made application for a license.

There are now eight Japanese-American couples living at Bellevue.

FIND BABY ON STEP.

Portland Couple Captivated by Infant's Cooing Decide to Adopt Well-Dressed Baby.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PORTLAND (Or.) May 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Finding a baby girl on his doorstep last night, E. A. Jaeger, a prominent Portland jeweler and member of the last Legislature, with his wife, have decided to adopt the child. With the infant, who has come into one of the fine homes of the city, was left a complete outfit of clothing of excellent quality. The clothes were packed in an open suitcase, and baby was dressed in them when they answered the doorbell.

"Won't you take my baby rather than one from an institution? I've been told you could give her a better home than I ever could," said an accompanying note, written in a refined hand.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

EWISTON (Idaho) May 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stockmen of the Salmon River country are regarding the killing of "Old Baldy," the big grizzly bear, that for several years has preyed upon the men of the river stockmen, killing scores of animals and entailing a loss of several thousand dollars.

"Old Baldy" was killed by David

McDonald, who followed him into one of the wild recesses of the Salmon River and, after one of his devastating tours through the settlement. The animal weighed over 1000 pounds.

The bear first made his appearance on Salmon River three years ago, and has been regularly raiding the country during the winter, following the herds of cattle and sheep to the high mountains during the summer season.

Numerous hunting parties have been organized to effect his killing, and at several times the hunters have been successful in this regard.

The bear, however, has been returning to his haunts and resume his desecrations.

THE TAFT LANCERS.

Formed as an Off-Shoot of the Out West Club, Which Had an Interesting Ride Yesterday.

There is a revival of interest in horseback riding in Los Angeles and the Taft Lancers have arrived. They were one of the topics of conversation yesterday on the all-day ride of the Out West Club, to the unique and picturesque Finley's La Cachada Inn, at La Cachada. The Out West Club itself, organized six months ago for social purposes, now numbers two hundred members, among them being many representative horsemen and women of the Southwest. The object is to raise the standard of horsemen in Southern California, and in the club are men of all ages, ranging from the skilled cowboy and rider-thrown type, to the man who gets himself up as though he were going to ride in Hyde Park in dear old London.

One of the most interesting aspects of these knights of the saddle is Capt. J. S. Hendrickson, field manager of the Out West Club, an old-time ranger of the country, who has been a member of the organization of the Taft Lancers, a troop already numbering forty members. This is the first troop to be organized in the United States, for parade work, and the men keep up sports within the field of such an organization. Over $1500 has already been spent on the uniforms and equipment of the Lancers, whose first public appearance will be at the 10th of June in the parade of the Elks. The officers of the troop are: R. S. Howland, major; F. E. Davis, adjutant; Dr. G. A. Scoggs, surgeon-major; F. B. Hamer, lieutenant; T. J. Aldridge, lieutenant; and C. D. Connell, veterinary surgeon.

STABS WIFE, THEN CRAVES HER PARDON.

Jealous Man Turns Cruel Blade Against His Spouse and Inflicts Many Wounds While She Strives by Soft Words to Deter Him.

After stabbing his wife five times with a pocket knife in a blind fury of jealousy at 1 o'clock last Saturday morning, A. A. Gerson, checked in his madness by the woman's piteous pleading and loving words, went down on his knees before her and begged for forgiveness. Several hours later he called a surgeon to bind up her wounds, then had her conveyed to the California Hospital in an automobile and covered her bed with flowers and fruit.

Mrs. Gerson produced from her reticule the knife with which he had stabbed her and told so much to the attendant surgeon that Gerson was thrown into jail, but his wife refused to swear to a complaint against him.

COOKING AND CURSES.

Gerson is a sort of soldier of fortune. About a month ago he was released from jail on probation under a looking for Gerson. The officers found him in the afternoon, strolling up and down Hope street, near Fiesta Park, and it was locked up in the Union Police Station, while a perfume of the flowers he brought to the wife he tried to kill was slowly dying away. "I have nothing to say," was all the statement Gerson would make to a reporter.

"I do not care to talk," murmured a woman whose pale face lay upon the pillow of a hospital couch. "If she does not swear to that complaint, I am done with her," indignantly cried a woman who had been a bosom friend of Mrs. Gerson.

The last few weeks, though, the man has been troubled. A girl was one of the swimming blocks—the principal one, for she was exceptionally bright in other studies.

On several recent occasions she attended school in the morning without the knowledge of her mother, leaving home in the morning as if for school, then spending the day at her fancy dictated—no one knows just how.

Roy Kistner, a San Francisco conductor, now at San Francisco, with whom the girl was acquainted, is said to have paid her no unusual attention.

Investigations carried on by Kistner, however, lead her to believe that the girl could not have run away for the purpose of joining the streetcar man.

The girl left home Gladys had but a little money, not more than 20 cents, so far as could be learned, so it is felt that she could not have gone far by trolley or train.

The girl, however, who joined in the search yesterday, was inclined to believe that there was a man in the case, but his idea was scouted by Mrs. Kistner and by the Butterworths, who are certain that the little girl simply wandered off, and that she will be found very shortly, safe and sound.

Nevertheless, the police of Los Angeles and of all surrounding cities and towns are requested to aid in the hunt and to communicate at once with the little one's friends in the event that she is found.

MISSING GIRL'S BOOKS FOUND.

GLADYS ELLERY LEFT THEM ON A BENCH IN SOUTH PARK.

Automobile Parties Conduct Unsuccessful Hunt for High School Miss Who Suddenly Dropped from Sight—Studies Had Bothered Her Much in Last Few Weeks.

A bundle of school books, found on a bench in South Park yesterday, is the only sign so far discovered as to the movements of Gladys Ellery, the 16-year-old school-girl, since her disappearance from the home of E. S. Butwerth, No. 712 West Thirty-second street.

No note was left with the books, nor is any other way did the dainty little miss communicate to her friends who she chose to drop suddenly from sight.

Automobile parties engaged in a search yesterday for the girl, paying particular attention to the southeast part of the city, and the road leading toward Ocean Beach. Many ranches were visited by the crews of all electric cars were engaged by the anxious hunters.

It seemed to be settled in the minds of the girl's friends that she had made no attempt on her life, and had not run away to join a former street-car conductor, now in San Francisco, who is known to have been friendly toward her.

The girl, however, she simply wandered away, as did little Miss Waters of the Marlborough School a few days ago, and that she is safe somewhere. Though she was 16 years old on the last occasion last month, her age does not appear to be more than thirteen. She is just a trifle more than five feet in height and weighs 125 pounds. She wears short skirts, and is the last person one would be likely to be involved in any trouble, though she is. When she left home, ostensibly for an uncommonly attractive.

On Saturday morning she wore a white shirt waist, black slacks with a decorative band of silk, black shoes, and a hat of black silk, sailor shape. She has dark brown hair and blue eyes.

Gladys is the daughter of George Ellery, Melrose station, the Colorado Grove electric line. She went through the Melrose grammar school and when the time came for the continuance of her education she became the ward of Mrs. S. M. Kiser, a widow of Chicago woman, who makes her home at the Chateau Frontenac, No. 732 South Flower street. Mrs. Kiser found a city home for the girl with the Butterworths and gained her admission to the Polytechnic High School, where the young lady was in the first year of study.

In the last few weeks, though, the girl has been troubled. Algebra was one of the stumbling blocks—the principal one, for she was exceptionally bright in other studies.

On several recent occasions she absented herself from school without the knowledge of her mother, leaving home in the morning as if for school, then spending the day as her fancy dictated—no one knows just how.

THREE MAIDS HURLED OUT.

SHYING HORSE THROWS THEM FROM CARRIAGE.

Young Women on a Pleasure Ride Are Victims of Accident Which Results in Painful, But Not Serious Injuries—Much Interest Shown by Their Friends.

Thrown headlong from the carriage, when a spirited little horse belonging to Miss Nellie O'Connor of No. 126 Wilshire avenue, became frightened and ran away, three young women girls—sustained serious injury early last evening. As it was all three were severely bruised and shaken up, besides being almost unseated by the suddenness of the accident.

Miss O'Connor took her friends, Miss Betty Duran and Miss Ida Chisholm, for a ride. On the way home, Miss O'Connor, who was driving, released her hold on the reins for an instant. Near an alleyway that extends from Twelfth street near Alvarado, the horse shied at a heap of piping and started sharply around, driving over the carriage. The three girls were hurled to the ground.

The young woman driving made a brave struggle to retain hold of the reins, but, half fainting from pain, she finally let go. The horse dashed down the alley and into Pico street, where two men stopped it.

The animal evidently fell in the course of its gallop down the street, for its legs were cut. The three girls were hurried to the armament.

The winter season is coming to an end in Santa Barbara; the millionaires are packing up to follow the spring trails.

The season has been both good and bad. The trouble was the series of fires that swept over the Coast line. Millions are fond of Santa Barbara, but they are not going to wade to get here. The consequence was that the winter season was unusually fine and the summer was unusually dry.

The railroad has promised that before another winter the Coast line will put in such condition that the original flood, managed by Noah himself, couldn't wash it out.

But the millionaires hotel people will probably continue to take an anxious interest in weather signals.

Meanwhile the indications are more than good for a summer season.

I now consider Santa Barbara, California should be explored as a winter resort any more than a summer resort.

I can't imagine why eastern people are any more anxious to escape the cold than the beastly, fleishy east.

In the summer Santa Barbara is simply heavenly. Of course, I wouldn't swear it's just like the place, but—

Santa Barbara people are making a strenuous effort to put this idea into public notice. As a result, for summer, they are trying to subsidize a municipal band, after the fashion of Long Beach. They are not making much progress. The merchants who were asked to contribute did not seem to "come through" with the frenzy of enthusiasm expected.

The saloon men have held back for a very good reason. They say they will need all the money to fight the approaching prohibition election.

As much as to say: If you can see us vote to vote "well," maybe, we will loosen up for the band.

Political experts seem to regard it as pretty certain that the city will go dry with limitations.

The saloons are to be put out of business, but the hotels will not be molested.

There are some twenty-odd saloons at present, rather lightly licensed, but severely regulated.

In addition to this temperance question, the summer campaign Santa Barbara will be momentous. The first batch of the new Councilmen-at-large will be elected. Those now in office hold under the old-fashioned ward system.

Santa Barbara is one of the cities newly equipped like a convertible residence—houses with removable roofs, automatic arrangements like initiatives and referendums.

Elmer J. Boeske, the present Mayor, seems to be marked for slaughter by an element of the people who were instrumental in his election.

Clio Lloyd, who bloomed biennially as clerk of the Legislature, is heavily discussed as a future Mayor.

Mr. Lloyd's present mission is to grab the revenue cutter McCullough, for Santa Barbara.

The Treasury Department has decided Southern California should have a cutout station permanently along the north coast to cover piracy and smuggling.

She has to have a stable somewhere.

Santa Barbara people can't see anything—it the naval base must be here.

Deputy Collector of the Port, it is up to Lloyd to hypnotize the captain.

When the McCullough sailed southward, the officers carried a long succession of dinners tendered by prominent citizens, and the farewells were of the community.

There is said to be more behind this than the revenue cutter than that.

Santa Barbara people are alleged to have terminal railroad rates as a real motive. If a more vigorous ocean competition can be worked up it is supposed that the railroad will be influenced in the matter of the yearned-for rates.

Robinson the "architect of cities" showed how Los Angeles could be built up in a hill for a matter of $50,000,000, has also visited Santa Barbara. His sweeping plans for this city have already been adopted. The City Council had agreed to build a new old hand stand on the Alameda. If Mr. Robinson had suggested anything like this for Los Angeles I am sure we would have responded tactfully to the test and pulled down pretty darn near any old hand stand.

Santa Barbara women are trying to find some way to save the old De la Guerra house for the public. This is one of the finest old adobe houses in the State, and the family still lives there. But they want to move.

With the upgrowth of the city the old house has been choked by modern stores. It makes me think of some bewildered old Spanish lady being jostled by a crowd.

The old house looks out on the old post office and City Hall, but unfortunately business houses have been allowed to grow so the old plaza might as well be an alley.

The De la Guerra are anxious to sell, but they haven't been able to get together on the price.

If purchased the old mansion will probably be used as a museum. Santa Barbara has saved even fewer of her relics than Los Angeles. Both cities have saved so few that it makes one sick at heart.

The best are in the possession of the Santa Barbara Natural History Society, the best being the collection made by Dr. Yates, who recently left.

He left a large collection of natural history specimens; some priceless relics of the Mission Indians and a few members of the splendid old Spanish home. What appears to be a fragment of oil is an old "squirrel gun" and a powder horn, brought here by some trapper.

The whole collection is in bad shape, being mixed up and not properly identified. The society has the immediate need of an expert curator.

Santa Barbara has some pretty heavy expenses to meet without buying specimens. These expenses however, are in the nature of investments that should bring big returns.

The people have, perhaps, profited by our horrible example. They are now spending money to save their courthouse site. Our early-day superintendents must have been imbeciles. The woman about whom many young men are busying as busily as they can account for such unknowns.

La Favorita, however, is a young man of them all, of whom comes to a satisfactory conclusion after many humorous escapades of his individual and his friends. But he is a character that must be seen to be believed.

He Cain-Brown gave a splendid performance of the Circus Girl, and with discretion and much musical taste, though her voice was evidently not good, she did not seem nervous or fatigued after long and arduous rehearsals. It will, no doubt, be at better advantage in the coming performances.

In honor of the day, considered as a certain style of entertainment, characterized by desirability, it is said, which is not to be seen in other forms of stage work.
The comedy man must be as a character in real life. He must have an idle moment. He must be a man of infinite resource, instantly resourceful in emergencies, and in even the movements of each piece of business not cause for a second to lose, for a moment.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

When women acquire the collecting mania, they frequently branch out in the most unexpected directions, and take up all sorts of odd specialties. One woman in Los Angeles, for instance, has a collection of 1,000 buttons—hundreds of them gathered from every part of the world—and so interesting is the history of these badges of needlework that she gives afternoon talks and lectures sometimes. I believe, before clubs concerning her collection, which is used to illustrate the address.

Once when I was in Santa Barbara a curio dealer told me of a woman who had made a marvelous collection of pitchers—pitchers of all sorts, nations, shapes and sizes, from the simple plants, vegetables, berries, chickens, bees and pigs.

What Women Are Doing.

As a sample of the demand for cooked foods in this 1909 period of modern housekeeping, the manager of the grocery department of one of the big Chicago houses declares that the firm sold $300,000 of chicken croquettes, sausages, salads, and cooked ham, tongue, hash, fish, chops and stew during the past year.

Practical work is Mrs. Oliver Brown's forte. She is the wealthy owner of a chicken ranch in New York State, and because she wants to know all that is possible about chickens, she has entered Cornell University as a student of poultry to make a thorough study of all that pertains to the subject.

An indirect result of the American colony of the Philippines Islands was the organization recently of a club for women in Manila. More than 1000 Filipino women have been enrolled, and the club proposes to have an active program for distributing sterilized milk and a hospital for ailing infants. The leading organizer of the club was Concepcion Felix, a Filipino woman, who has been admitted to the bar.

Fads and Fancies.

The princess gown, with skirt cut sufficiently short for walking has gained considerable success, in spite of the dictum of dressmakers that such a gown was ungraceful.

Bunches of artificial fruit are seen, made of satin, taffeta and velvet. They are to be worn as hats, or pinned in the corsage or pinned around the hat where the veil is lopped off.

An ivory white satin may have several tunics in various pale shades of blue, or silver and gold tissues, which will give to it the appearance of an entirely different gown.

The duller metallic effects are gaining speedily in favor. In fact, the metallic faces are dyed or veiled with net so that all that is left of their brilliance is a soft sort of incandescent shimmer.

The latest umbrella has the signs of the zodiac painted into the border of the handle has a tapered look through which to thrust the wrist, the tips of the frame are gilt, and the handle is the color of the silk.

The coat either with the cap sleeves or in the sleeveless style makes a very effective summer wrap and may be worn over lingerie dresses or be used as a coat over the material chosen.

The cuirass is a bodice that fits the figure closely, but that does not suggest any constriction of the waist. It is carried down beneath the natural line, straight and still close fitting, fitting to the edges of which is added a skirt.

INSURANCE WORLD.

A new insurance law of New York State provides for an annual tax of 1 per cent. upon the gross premium or assessment paid and received by mutual fire insurance companies upon property in that State. Ten per cent. of the total tax is to be given to the Volunteer Firemen's Association of the State for the maintenance of its home at Hudson. The remainder is to be distributed among the various volunteer firemen's associations throughout the State.

One would like to conjecture the influence of these gay scenes on the imagination, and on the tastes of the children brought up in those houses. The artistic aspirations of our immediate ancestors, which broke out into antinomianism and cross-stitch motifs, have all faded away, and can only be seen in their admiration of the oil chromo and globe of wax flowers, may be more intelligible to their descendants than if we consider the effect on their young minds of the wall-paper programs.

It was a fashion too pronounced to last and as it waned, the brilliant papers were replaced by those of newer style. A fashion, too, of so-called "so-pettable" fabrics as wall paper might well have died unremembered, but Miss Sanborn, who had been born in a house so adorned—seeing the rapid obliterating of these papers from the market—decided to preserve photographs of such as could still be found. The search resulted in about 150 photographs, many of them showing the colors of well-preserved, ornate houses, their arrangement and furniture just as it was in Revolutionary days or before. Such papers as the younger generation could not dream of forming a collection of, were collected by these old New Englanders of whom we think as serious and sober-minded we think.

One would like to conjecture the influence of these gay scenes on the imagination, and on the tastes of the children brought up in those houses. The artistic aspirations of our immediate ancestors, which broke out into antinomianism and cross-stitch motifs, have all faded away, and can only be seen in their admiration of the oil chromo and globe of wax flowers, may be more intelligible to their descendants than if we consider the effect on their young minds of the wall-paper programs.

Some New Books.

It is rather gratifying to note that among the most popular fiction books of the present month half a dozen at least are written by women. One of the strongest of them is by a former actress—Anne—Perry—Florin Kelly—and, to my thinking, it is the best of the lot. In her "The Delafield Affair," whose setting is in the cattle country of New Mexico, and touched with vivid scenes of heightened depth of human passion. The splendidly portrayed characters move across her pen picture of wide meadows and rolling ranch lands with a vividness, attraction and compels attention from the first page to the final tragedy which ends in love.

Another woman, Mary Roberts Rinehart, is a pretty close second to Conan Doyle in her thrilling and fascinating detective story, "The Man in the Tan Coat." If you want to read a book that will make you afraid to go home in the dark, as the children sing, just try this one, whose tragic events happen so thick and fast that it literally keeps you in a constant state of "nerves" to keep up with the procession of horrible happenings.

Alice Brown's new book, "The Story of Thyrza," is rather disappointing. Its heroine is a rather simple, uninteresting actress, whose innocence is an ignorance that is not only painful, but wholly improbable. It is a venture in a new field for Miss Brown, so her publishers tell us, and for the first time of "nerves" to keep up with the procession of horrible happenings.

In Topeka (Kan.) a State charter has just been granted to the Bankers' Deposit, Guarantees and Surety Company, organized by national bankers chiefly for the issuance of bank notes. Its capital is fixed at $500,000. The purposes of the company are to insure and guarantee the payment of deposits in both State and national banks to their depositors and to insure in bank notes and securities, including real estate, and to guarantee fidelity and faithful performance by the banks. Bank deposits up to the amount of the capital and surplus will be insured for 50 cents on the $1000 per year, while deposits over that amount must pay $1 per $1000.

For the Girl Graduate.

All the book shops are blossoming out with commencement fashions in stationery, cards, books, invitations and hints for gifts for the sweet girl graduate and her steward brother. There are many fine gift books, mostly for gift-books and some of them are most attractive and wonderfully appealing to the girls who want to keep a record of their last college or high school year. The book is in soft green and gold, that was especially fitted to the mark. It has ample space for a record of all the events of commencement time and will prove a joy forever to the recipient.

Farms for Spinster.

At last it has been solved—the problem of what to do with the 150,000 single women of Massachusetts—that is, if the plan of three score business and professional women of Boston are carried out. There is a bill before the State legislature of that commonwealth to

NEAR TO DEATH FOR A TIME.

MRS. BURDETTE SANK RAPIDLY YESTERDAY MORNING.

Was Unconscious for Several Hours But Rallied in Afternoon and by Night Was Pronounced Out of Danger—Dwight-Tulloch Marriage Surprise Society.

Miss of the Times, No. 2, S. Raymond A. PASADENA, May 17.—Mrs. Robert Burdette suffered a relapse and sank rapidly early yesterday morning, but rallied in the afternoon and was thought that she would still live. An automobile was dispatched to San Gabriel for her physician and Dr. Burdette sent notice that he would be unable to preside at the Temple Auditorium.

Shortly after noon the patient rallied again and so apparent was her recovery later that Dr. Burdette was allowed to go to the church at the evening services. At his hour last night it was announced that Mrs. Burdette was resting quietly and that it was believed all danger had passed.

DWIGHT-TULLOCH.—Barrow Dwight and Miss Emma Tulloch, sister of the bride, were married in the vicarage of the church of the Angels, Saturday night, shortly after 7 o'clock. Mrs. Conrad J. Tulloch, sister-in-law of the bride, performed the young couple at the wedding.

Mrs. J. H. Dwight, mother of the bride, and Conrad M. Tulloch, brother of the bride did not know of the marriage until noon yesterday.

The surprise was received in society circles as the most startling matrimonial announcement this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrow Dwight left immediately after the ceremony in their automobile for a wedding tour in southern California. It is believed they went to Santa Barbara. Upon their return they will visit at their home the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. Tulloch in San Rafael heights.

Mrs. J. H. Dwight denies that her son eloped with Miss Tulloch, but admits that the marriage was entirely unknown to her.

Conrad Tulloch says that he was born of the engagement of his sister and Dwight he would have informed upon the marriage taking place.

England, at the home of his parents.

After hours Saturday young Dwight applied to County Clerk Keys for a marriage license. He was refused, but was referred to District County Clerk, who acceded to persuasive demands; unlocked the Courthouse and issued the license.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. A. Tulloch of London and Kent. Eng. For some time this winter she visited Pasadena, the guest of her brother and his wife. She had all her plans made to leave for England tomorrow morning. She is a talented young woman, aged 23 years. She has made many friends here. Her brother is Mr. Ernest M. Tulloch, Hartley, who was Miss Mary Dwight, more than a year ago.

Barrow Dwight is also 23 years old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight, whose late husband was a prominent banker, a member of the Board of Trade and leading citizen of Chicago. He has lived in Pasadena off and on for the past eight years and is popular among the social set. He attended Cornell, where he was a member of the Phi Psi fraternity, and where he nearly lost his life in the burning of that fraternity house. He also attended.

His sister, Miss Florence Dwight, left for Chicago yesterday morning, and has not yet learned of the marriage.

G. WILL WED WEDNESDAY.—Miss Madeline Mulford, aged 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Mulford of No. 528 North Marengo avenue, is to be married Wednesday evening to Walter O. Patten, aged 21, son of Mrs. Eva May Patten of No. 707 North Marengo. The couple will be a quiet family affair at the residence of the bride, only immediate relatives being in attendance. The groom is the son of the late Judge Charles Mulford and his wife, Mrs. Henry H. Sinclair, Clinton C. Clarke, J. Murray Marshall and R. E. Peterson. Refreshments were served in the dining-room, where the couple eloped on a date of Ulrich Brumley, Mrs. Ebenezer A. Clapp and Mrs. Phillip Lester Patten, president over the coffee urns.

The next regular club entertainment will be a vaudeville performance on the evening of May 29.

MRS. VILLAS ENTERTAINS.

Mr. Henry Villas of Markham avenue was host Saturday afternoon, at a theater party at the Belasco.

Mr. Villas, Mrs. Joseph H.ond, J. Foster Rhodes, Emil Kayser, Henry H. Sherck, F. Bruce, Wetherby, Walter L. Wotkyne and Miss Bates.

Miss Madeline Barnes of St. John avenue has issued invitations for a formal bridge party for May 31, complimentary to Miss Marion McGilvray, whose marriage will take place early in June.

FIRE AT RELATIVE.

Palms Youth Shoots at Brother-in-Law When Latter Interferes in Quarrel With Father.

PALMS. May 16.—Angered at his brother-in-law for interfering in a quarrel between himself and his father, George Partinico, 17 years of age, this afternoon drew a revolver and fired one shot at his relative but missed his target. Before he could fire again the gun was taken from him by his father. Sheriff's officers investigated and no arrests were made.

The shooting took place at the Partinico winery at Ivy Park. It seems that young Partinico asked his father for a horse to go on a hunting trip and was refused the use of a horse. The brother-in-law, a cobbler and around the ire of the youth, who objected to the intrusion and attempted to stop the interference with his son.

EDUCATIONAL SQUABBLE.

At the meeting to be held this afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms on West Colorado street, a strong effort will be made by members of the faculty to support their demands for higher pay in the public schools, who have been left out in the recommendation of the present board to the incoming one, to select a list of three candidates who will be favorable to married teachers, who now retain the women on their teacher's list.

A year ago the Board of Education issued an edict that all women having husbands able to support them must leave the employ of the educational department of the city. The seven women who now know they are dismissed are: Mrs. Van L. Denton, wife of Principal Denton of the Roosevelt school; Mrs. Margaret Stewart, wife of Principal Stewart of the Wilson school; Mrs. Ruby W. Abbott, wife of F. J. Abbott, a tailor, and teacher of the fourth grade in the Franklin school; Mrs. Jessie Owings, teacher of the third grade, at Franklin school; Mrs. French teacher of the third grade in the Madison school; Mrs. Alice Sheldon, teacher of the second grade in the Lincoln school.

It is said by those not named in the edict that the seven women, who are married by the incoming board, the five married women remain on the teachers' list, and that these are, with one or two exceptions, under the rule of the Board. The seven women are dismissed on the grounds that they have husbands able to support them.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY.

The supporters of Dr. Macpherson, whose name has already been officially presented as a candidate for member of the Board of Education, have decided to support his candidacy in the next election. The names that may be presented or meetings that may be held to eliminate the names of other candidates.

Mr. Macpherson is a graduate of Cornell University, a civil engineer of high rank, who surveyed and built the Mt. Lowe Railway and for over twenty years has been intimately connected with Pasadena's advancement.

FIRE WARNINGS.

the forest reserve back of Pasadena, particularly in the San Gabriel canon, the west forks and the headwaters of the Arroyo Seco, warning campers to be cautious with fires.

All rangers in the reserve have been instructed to make breaking the State law prohibiting the abandonment of a live fire. The State law governing forest reserves provides specific rules for camp making. Camp fires must be located so as to be safe from the fire in the forest. On departing a camp the camper must quench his fire with water.

In all the warnings put out in placards the chief theme is care of camp fires. Some of the rules that are the same as those against cutting standing timber.

All campers are supposed to cloperate with forest officials, and if they do not understand the building of a camp fire, the best way to escape prosecution is to turn up to the ranger for his aid in the selection of a safe camp site and the provision for guarding a camp fire.

One of the first rules is the clearing, to clear the ground about the camp. A blaze should never be started in an underbrush or in any position where it can communicate to the surrounding timber.

Prosecutions for careless fires will be presented this summer.

SCHOOL'S PROGRAMME.

Miss Olga Cassell of Anne M. Redden are to be the graders from the English Classical School. Miss G. H. and interesting closing exercises have been arranged. Friday evening, the recital of the Presto Club will take place and on May 24, there will be an exhibition by the gymnastic class and Sunday evening the first year class in expression will present "The Land of Heart's Desire," and Miss Graham of Los Angeles will render "The Bishop of Cashmore" and other selections. Classroom exercises will take place on the evening of May 27. On May 28 diplomas will be presented.

JOSEPH SCHWEIKERT DEAD.

Joseph Schweikert, one of the oldest residents of Lamanda Park, died at noon yesterday, as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. He was a member of the Pasadena Lodge of Elks No. 472, of the American Order of United Workmen. He was the owner of two butcher shops, one in Lamanda Park and the other in East Pasadena. Mr. Schweikert leaves a widow and four children.

The wife is a native of Germany and came to California seventeen years ago, settling in San Gabriel. He moved to Lamanda Park fifteen years ago. Last Wednesday he was stricken by an apoplectic stroke. The funeral services will be held Wednesday.

Palms Youth Shoots at Brother-in-Law When Latter Interferes in Quarrel With Father.

PALMS. May 16.—Angered at his brother-in-law for interfering in a quarrel between himself and his father, George Partinico, 17 years of age, this afternoon drew a revolver and fired one shot at his relative but missed his target. Before he could fire again the gun was taken from him by his father. Sheriff's officers investigated and no arrests were made.

The shooting took place at the Partinico winery at Ivy Park. It seems that young Partinico asked his father for a horse to go on a hunting trip and was refused the use of a horse. The brother-in-law, a cobbler and around the ire of the youth, who objected to the intrusion and attempted to stop the interference with his son.

EDUCATIONAL SQUABBLE.

At the meeting to be held this afternoon at the Board of Trade rooms on West Colorado street, a strong effort will be made by members of the faculty to support their demands for higher pay in the public schools, who have been left out in the recommendation of the present board to the incoming one, to select a list of three candidates who will be favorable to married teachers, who now retain the women on their teacher's list.

A year ago the Board of Education issued an edict that all women having husbands able to support them must leave the employ of the educational department of the city. The seven women who now know they are dismissed are: Mrs. Van L. Denton, wife of Principal Denton of the Roosevelt school; Mrs. Margaret Stewart, wife of Principal Stewart of the Wilson school; Mrs. Ruby W. Abbott, wife of F. J. Abbott, a tailor, and teacher of the fourth grade in the Franklin school; Mrs. Jessie Owings, teacher of the third grade, at Franklin school; Mrs. French teacher of the third grade in the Madison school; Mrs. Alice Sheldon, teacher of the second grade in the Lincoln school.

It is said by those not named in the edict that the seven women, who are married by the incoming board, the five married women remain on the teachers' list, and that these are, with one or two exceptions, under the rule of the Board. The seven women are dismissed on the grounds that they have husbands able to support them.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY.

The supporters of Dr. Macpherson, whose name has already been officially presented as a candidate for member of the Board of Education, have decided to support his candidacy in the next election. The names that may be presented or meetings that may be held to eliminate the names of other candidates.

Mr. Macpherson is a graduate of Cornell University, a civil engineer of high rank, who surveyed and built the Mt. Lowe Railway and for over twenty years has been intimately connected with Pasadena's advancement.

Death of Woman in Tropico Last Chapter in Interesting Life History.

TROPICO, May 16.—With the death of Mrs. Adelaide James, mother of Mrs. A. M. Watson of Brand boughs, the chapter of life of Mrs. James was filed with interesting incidents.

Mrs. James, who was born in England more than eighty years ago, accompanied her parents to Ohio, when a child, and in that State was educated in schools and college.

After her marriage she went with her husband to Melbourne, Australia, in 1883, and they traveled to the north of Queensland, where Mr. James established the first large shipping station.

The couple remained in Queensland ten years and assisted in the social and financial development of the country.

In 1893, they returned to the United States and took up their residence in Oakland, becoming prominently identified with the growth of that city.

At the time of the San Francisco disaster, Mrs. James was very ill and the shock affected her very seriously. In the hope that her health would be benefited, her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Watson, came to Tropico, where she had since lived.

The body was cremated and the ashes taken to Oakland.

Rev. Dr. Locke, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Tropico, will be in charge of COUNTY'S POOR OFFER PROBLEM.

ORANGE MAY ESTABLISH FARM AND HOSPITAL.

Supervisors to inspect possible sites and devise ways of raising funds—Santa Ana Debaters Defeat San Diego High School Team. Marriage Licenses.

SANTA ANA, May 16.—The Supervisors will take action to secure a county hospital and poor farm for Orange county. At present, indigents are cared for on the allowance plan. Those very ill, or severely injured, are sent to a private hospital and a few lame old men are cared for in a small leased building. The county's growth makes necessary the establishment of a county hospital and poor farm.

The board will make a tour of the county to look over suitable sites for the farm.

Supervisor Angie says that the best method of raising necessary funds quickly will be to levy a special tax of 10 cents, which would bring in $25,000, and a hospital poll tax, which in two years would bring in $30,000.

He is certain that several thousand dollars annually would be saved by the hospital and poor farm system. Last year the county's indigents cost $24,000.

Santa Ana High School debaters, Elmer Worthy and Miss Ella Livingston, scored a victory over the team from San Diego High School, or San Diego, Friday night, a total of 204 to 23 points against 182.

The question was: "Resolved, That women in the United States be admitted to equal suffrage with men." Angie and the affirmative. San Diego was represented by Roy Denlinger and Frank Czarnowski.

MITCHELL ONCE MORE.

Slayer of Cecil Thayer, in Whose Case Jury Disagreed, to Be Tried Again on Murder Charge.

One more attempt will be made by the District Attorney's office to convict William Mitchell of the murder of Cecil Thayer on January 1. When the case comes to trial the second time it is likely that Deputy District Attorney G. Ray Horton will join his fellow-deputy, John C. North, in conducting the prosecution.

From the standpoint of the prosecution, the outcome is said to have the best it could expect. There were many on the side of the defense who looked for an acquittal.

Just how soon the second trial will be is a question that has not been decided. It probably will not be for several weeks.

The first trial, which resulted in the disagreement, consumed two weeks, and cost the county thousands of dollars. The second trial promises to be long-drawn-out and quite as expensive.

Police Seeking for Wealthy Brooklyn Man, His Young Cashier and Touring Car.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, May 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—As a second in the series of stories in the Times, this morning, in which a Brooklyn business man, his 17-year-old cashier, her sister and a high-powered automobile figured Saturday night the police are searching for James Edwin Armstrong and Miss Edith Silberhorn on a charge of eloping.

Armstrong lives with his wife and two children. He conducts a bakery on the ground floor beneath his apartment.

Miss Silberhorn asked her mother's permission to take a dress to a seamstress and have it altered, yesterday. Mrs. Silberhorn consented. Anna, an elderly maid, became suspicious and scolded Edith. She said the two, Armstrong, caught her around the waist and the two girls struggled. A crowd collected, but just as it began to show signs of interfering, Edith wrenched herself from her sister's arms and ran to a big automobile, which was alighted in the car and he dragged Edith in.

Today detectives traced the couple to Coney Island, but there all trace of them was lost.

Armstrong is the son of the late Hallock Armstrong, for fifty years a prominent Presbyterian clergyman of Neilson, Pa.

LIFE QUICKLY ENDED.

AUTO SMASH CAUSES DEATH.

Early-Morning Collision Is Fatal to Driver.

Is Hurled Like a Catapult from His Seat.

Victim Was Scion of One of Pioneer Families.

George C. Dotter, son of the late John Dotter, one of the pioneer furniture merchants of Los Angeles, was almost instantly killed about 12:30 o'clock this morning when his automobile, which he was driving at high speed, collided with a Jefferson-street car of the Los Angeles Interurban system, at Eighth and Flower streets.

Dotter was thrown twenty-five feet from his machine to the pavement, and was unconscious when the car crew reached his side. The police ambulance was called, but Dotter died before the Receiving Hospital was reached. The remains were taken to Bresse Bros.' undertakers, where an inquest will be held today.

Dotter evidently lost control of his automobile, or saw the street car too late to avoid the crash. The street car was pulling across the corner westbound on its way to the Georgia street car line.

The crew heard the automobile approaching, and the next instant the machine had crashed against the side of the electric car at the front end. Dotter, who was alone in the automobile, was shot from his seat as from a catapult landing on the pavement near the curb. Death must have come almost immediately from internal injuries. His machine was wrecked.

The Dotters have for a quarter of a century been connected with the furniture trade of Los Angeles. The elder Dotter, two decades ago was a member of the furniture firm of Dotter & Bradley, whose business grew into what is now the Los Angeles Furniture Company. George Dotter, who was an only son, also entered the furniture business, and until a year ago was connected with the California Furniture Company.

When the older Dotter died he left a fortune estimated between $50,000 and $75,000 to his wife, who died about three years ago and left almost his entire estate to her daughter, Miss Edella Dotter. As a result George Dotter and two other sisters, Mrs. Milton Chapman, wife of the attorney, and Mrs. Leslie Barr, contested the will in the Superior Court but, after a lengthy and sensational hearing, the will was held valid and the fortune went to Miss Edella. Until the contest the two brothers, George Dotter and Miss Edella had been estranged. Dotter was not married.

The older man was practically alone in handling the case, which came to a termination Saturday night with the disagreement of the jury, and he was complimented highly for the good showing he made.

From the standpoint of the prosecution, the outcome is said to have the best it could expect. There were many on the side of the defense who looked for an acquittal.
